This Chalet is an old farmhouse of the late nineteenth century and was one of the first houses of San Cassiano, little gem of Alta Badia surrounded by the enchanted Dolomites, and is therefore an essential part of its history. The Chalet "speaks" the language of the region and its architecture is reminiscent of one of the most popular styles of the valley.

This property offers its guests comfort and modern services, yet preserving the distinctive warmth of the family farm, originating from the choice of the materials: larch wood from old Austrian barns was used for the exterior, brushed and waxed pine together with "Luserna" and "Piasentina" stone for the interior, vintage planed oak for the floors.
